Hartsfield-Jackson, TSA Ready for Holiday Weekend

Memorial Day marks start of busy summer travel season

ATLANTA – With millions of people expected to fly this Memorial Day weekend, officials at the world's busiest and most efficient airport are prepared for the start of the busy summer travel season.

"We take pride in our distinction as the world's busiest airport," said Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport General Manager Roosevelt Council, Jr. "We are just as proud of the fact that we're the world's most efficient airport. That efficiency will ensure all of our guests have a safe, pleasant journey through ATL this weekend." ATL expects to serve as the origination airport for nearly 400,000 passengers during the weekend, which runs from Thursday to Monday. More than 85,000 people are expected to depart from ATL on Friday, considered the busiest day of the weekend.

Airport officials remain committed to providing a secure environment. Local, state and federal law enforcement officials remain hyper-vigilant to any threats posed to the traveling community. Officers will maintain a strong, visible presence at Hartsfield-Jackson.

To ease passenger flow, ATL substantially expanded the security queuing area to accommodate more passengers. Additionally, ATL – working with the Transportation Security Administration and airline stakeholders – recently completed the installation of 20 new Automated Screening Lanes (ASL), bringing the total number of ASLs to 22. These lanes increase by 30 percent the number of travelers passing through the screening process. The screening lanes opened nearly two weeks ahead of schedule.

During the holiday weekend, passengers are encouraged to arrive at ATL at least two hours before scheduled departure for domestic flights and three hours for international flights. Travelers should also monitor their airlines' websites and social media feeds for immediate updates.
